POETRY.

[From the Marion Star.] The Disappointed.

I see him walking in the street,
I see him at the ball,
And still in every errowd we meet,
He's gayest of them all,
He looks at me and with a smile Bows gracefully and low, I wouder if he sighs the while To think I told him—"No"!

To think I told him—"No"!

There are no wrinkles in his face,
No silver in his hair,
But in my own, alas! I trace
The ravages of care,
Oh, he must very heartless be,
To keep his beauty so,
He does't seem to fret like me,
Because I told him—"No."

He's fifty-two, and flirting yet With every baby face, And seems completely to forget My own maturer grace,
I do believe he's handsomer
Than he was long ago,
I only wish he'd try me now,
I would'nt answer—"No."

Indeed I think 'tis very hard That maidens never may Speak out the love that fills the soul,

And eats the heart away,
I'll do'it, tho' I wander from
The path where others go,
It would'nt be a killing thing
If he should answer—" No." Altho' I'm only forty-five,
I've lost my teeth and hair,
Indeed I can't afford to wait,
While he is fooling there,
It isn't right, but yet I must
My feelings let him know,
How much I love him, and trust
He will not aware.

He will not answer-"No." Tis done, I met him yesterday, And popt the question plain,
And fervently I hope I may
Ne er do the like again;
He answered with a horrid grin,
"I'm married long ago,
And even if I had nt been,
Old widd Lit all year,"

Old maid I'd tell you, No." AN OLD MAID.

Equestrian exercise for Ladies. The most experienced physicians agree that horseback exercise is benefical to all, but more especially so for invalids and sedentaries. The gentle motion of the chest, the increase of respiration, the gradual shifting of every drop of blood in the arteries, the fresh, buoyant wings given to the spirits during an hour's gallop on a clear spring morning, must render it an antidote for ninetenths of mortal maladies. We believe that equestrian exercise, under a judicious direc-tion, is, of itself, if timely commenced, a cure for consumption. There is no cizilized country on the globe, where physical educatian is so much neglected as in America: the consequence of which is, that our males are demidwarfs, and our females little more to manage ourselves in it. A lady, with proper care and training, can get the management of a horse so completely that he will be put to his last trump to throw her. In evidence, we may name Fanny Kemble. A few hints and practice are all she needs. The left foot should be placed in the stirrup a little above the second joint of the great toe. The reins should be brought up between the fingers of the left hand, and firmly held between the thumb and first finger. The left shoulder should be brought well forward, and the right hand, holding the whip, fall gracefully by the right side. The pommel of the saddle should not be held by the right hand. The fair rider should throw her shoulders back, and give as much ex-pansion to the chest as possible, and keep as nearly as she can the momentum of her horse. If the steed springs suddenly to the left, and the agrees not with his direction, she rets a complex control of the testing of the control of the testing she gets a counter motion and falls to the right, which is betther pleasant nor grace-

Auctioneering in California.

The reporter of the San Francisco News furnishes that paper with the following report of a speech made by a California auc-

"Ladies and gentlemen, I now have the honor of putting up a fine pocket handker-chief, a yard wide a yard long, and almost a yarn thick. One half cotton, and the t'other half cotton, too; beautifully painted with the stars and stripes on one side, and the stripes and stars on t'other; it will wipe dust from the eyes so completely as to be death to demagogues, and make politics as bad a business as printing papers; its great length, breadth and thickness together with its dark color will enable it to hide dirt and never need washing; going at one dollar?
—seventy-five cents?—fifty cents?—twentyfive cents ?- one bit? nobody wants it oh! thank you sir!

" Next gentlemen, (for the ladies won't be permitted to bid on this article) is a real, si-monpure tempered, highly polished, keen-edged Sheffield razor; bran spankin new; never opened before to sunlight, moonlight starlight, daylight, or gaslight, sharp enough to shave a lawyer, or cut a disagreeable acquaintance, or poor relation: handle of buck horn, with all the rivets but the two at the ends, of pure gold, who will give two dollars? one dollar? half a dollar? Why ye long bearded, dirty faced reprobates, with not room enough of your phizzes for a Chinese woman to kiss, I'm offering you a bargain at half a dollar!—well I will throw in this strap at half a dollar!—razor and strap of recent patent; two rubs upon it will sharpen a city attorney; all for four bits? and a piece of soap—sweeter than roses : lathers better than a schoolmaster, and strong enough to wash out all the stains from a California politician's conscience, all for four bits !- why you have only to put this razor strop and soap, under your pillow at night, to wake up in the morning clean shaved; won't anybody give two bits, then for the lot! I knew I would sell em.

"Next ladies and gentlemen, I offer three pair socks, hose, stocking or half hose, just as you're mind to call them. Knit by a machine made on purpose, out of cotton wool; the man that buys these will be enabled to walk till he gets tired; and, provided his boots are high enough, needn't have any corns; the legs are as long as bills against the corporation and as thick as the heads of the members of the Legislature; who wants em at one half dollar?—thankee, madam, dollar?

"Next I offer you a pair of boots, made especially for San Francisco, with heels long consequence of which is, that our males are demidwarfs, and our females little more than house-plants. The English, physically, the most beautiful antion on the earth, are assiduous in this department of education. They would think a child's education incomplete without a thorough throwledge of horseman-ship. One of the most interesting pictures that the pencil of artist ever drew, is a finely formed and graceful woman mounts afinely formed and graceful woman mounts fair burden, curbs his glossy neck and spurns the earth as it were not good enough for horseman along. "Next is something that you ought to have gentlemen, a lot of good gallowses—sometimes called suspenders. I know that some of you will, after a while, be furnished at the State's expense, but you can't tell which one, so buy wher they're cheap; all that deserve hanging are not supplied with a gallows, if so there would be nobedy to make laws, condemn criminals, or culprits, until a new election; made of pure gum make laws, consessed and last as long as a Californian office holder will steal; buckles of pure iron, and warrent ed to hold so tight that no man's wife can rob him of the breeches; are in short, as strong, as good, as effectual, and as sona fide as the ordinance against Chinese shops on Dupont street—gone at 25 cent."

When the R. R. R. Theory was first declared to the world, skeptical persons doubted its correctness, and looked with distrust on the remerectness, and looked with distrust on the remedies it possessed. Others, however, struck with the originality of its views and conceeding merit to the theory, were induced to try if the remedies bore out in practice what was claimed for them in theory. A third class differing from the others and perhaps more numerous, without consideing for a moment any merit they might be entitled to, tried them, merely as a venture, growing out of a desire for something new. We are satisfied with the result, for the public has received the benefit and R. R. R. Theory has triumphed. Not a day passes that we do has triumphed. Not a day passes that we do not have admission from some hitherto unbe-liever that their skepticism was unfounded and liever that their skepticism was unfounded and convinced by reading our Family Friend, have proved by their own experience, the infallibility of our medicines. Not a day passes that we do not receive grateful testimonials of cures effected by these Medicines. "I was seized with cramps and spasms last night says one, and had it not been for Radaway's Rendy Relief I should have died with the pain." Another says, "my wife was slowly sinking with an affection of the Lunga and my neighbor was suffering from Serofula,—I have seen them both restored to health by Radway's Renovating Resolveut. Serofula,—I have seen them both restored to health by Radway's Renovating Resolvent. A third say, "Radway's Regulators have cured me of habitual costiveness that was the burden of my life." Such are the characteristic testimonials we daily recive of the R. R. R. Remedia.

RHEUMATISM. PAINS stopped in a few minutes. The moment Radway's Ready Relief is applied to the parts afflicted with rheumatic pains, whether it be in the knee joint, the arms, legs, feet or loine all, pain and anguish ceases.
